IIB Collaborates with the Central Cooperative Bank

December 4, 2012

The Central Cooperative Bank (the Republic of Bulgaria) opened limitations on operations with the International Investment bank on the financial markets. The Board of the CCB adopted the IIB's proposition on cooperation, and in the nearest future the banks will start the cooperative work. The Central Cooperative Bank — is one of the oldest Bulgarian banks, it belongs to the top ten of the largest national financial institutions.

The expansion of the banks-partners range is the strategic line of the International Investment Bank. The start of the cooperation with the Central Cooperative Bank complies with the IIB's business development concept, adopted at the 98-th Council meeting of the Bank, which took place in November 2012. The new IIB strategy implies, in particular, promotion of the operations on the financial markets, both on the international markets and in the member states; it also implies the improvement of their efficiency.
