The IIB Head presented the list of step-by-step measures required to move in that direction. In particular, he mentioned transitioning from project-based towards agency-based crediting, fostering cooperation with national and international institutes of development, providing fuller utilization of immunities and privileges laid out in the constitutional documents of the bank, revising the detailed limits on operations in the financial markets, expanding the bank’s resource base, and readjusting the balance.

Considering the development of bilateral cooperation with the member states, Nikolay Kosov noted that the IIB will focus its activities on the needs of the national economies and mid-term priorities of the economic development. In this regard the IIB Head emphasized the necessity of a more active participation of each member state in shaping the countries' strategies.
